MUNITIONS DEBATE | ALL QUIET ON BORDER; STIRS CONVENTION

Maryland and D. C. Labor Federation Approves President's War Course.

UNION WORKERS NOT FOR "PEACE AT ANY PRICE"

Ready to Rally to Support of Government, Says President John H. Ferguson.

Heated debate which for a time threatened to tie up the business of the convention of the Maryland State and District of Columbia Federation of Labor was started at the session today over the nolicy of the United States in over the policy of the United States in allowing the shipment of munitions of war to the fighting nations abroad. The debate followed the introduction of Del Rio, Tex., early today caused

The resolutions set forth in part that the convention should "approve and indorse the wise and patriotic course followed by the President of the United States in his endeavor not only to preserve and promote peace on this hemisphere, but in his offer of mediation to nations at war, in the hope that peace may be restored to the earth."

Immediately following the introduction of the resolutions C. P. Reichel, one of the delegates, brought up the question of adding a statement as to the export of munitions of war.

Compelled to Take Un Arms.

Compelled to Take Up Arms. "Is it right that the instruments of manufactured in this country should be pressed into the hands of the workingmen of other countries?" he asked. "Should we workingmen no say something about this? These men say something about this? These men are compelled to take up arms, not because they want to do so, but because they are compelled to do so by a great military machine—a machine that works more smoothly than any other machine that has yet been made.

Mr. Ferguson said it was not for the labor body to go into the details of policy, but thought the federation should "uphold the hands of the President and give him every possible support.

labor toward war in general. "We are for peace," he said, "but not for 'peace at any price." Let any foreign nation insult the American flag and you will seen then how quickly organized labor will support this government."

Resolutions urging that government officials be restrained from aiding foreign competitors by setting up print-ing plants in foreign countries "to the prejudice and embarrassment of govadopted. The resolutions set forth in part that through passage of a bill by Congress. the Secretary of the Treasury should cause such rules and regulations to be adopted and placed in force for the regulation of the bureau of engraving and printing as will effectually forbid and prevent the officials and employes of said bureau from giving their time; skill, knowledge, experience or services upon any basis to any foreign government. ment plants of like character" were effectually forbid and prevent the officials and employes of said bureau from giving their time, skill, knowledge, experience or services upon any hasis to any foreign government or to say individual, firm or corporation whatsoever, domestic or foreign, for the purpose of assisting any such government or to say individual. whatsoever, domestic or foreign, for the purpose of assisting any such gov-ernment, individual, firm or corporation in the establishment or carrying on of any printing or engraving business or of any business whatsoever which in or may be directly or indirectly comis or may be directly or indirectly competitive with American industry, or which may directly or indirectly deprive American labor of its employment and means of livelihood."

Bimilar resolutions were adopted by the International Steel and Copper Flate Printers of North America at their convention in July last.

List of Nominations.

Mr. Ferguson, it is expected, will be re-elected president tomorrow, name being the only one placed in nomination yesterday afternoon. Other nominees are: First vice presidents, J. E. Toone and A. W. The men indicted are John J. dent and give him every possible support.

"We should be particularly glad to see this war halted," he said.

"Mr. Reichel declared he had no intention of trying to defeat the resolution (he voted in favor of it when the vote was taken), but that he thought some word should be included as to the exportation of arms.

"I have near relatives in that war who have been cripplet for life," he said. "I would be willing to make any sacrifice, to give up my life, even, if it could stop that war."

Wot for "Peace at Any Price."

During the debate Mr. Ferguson touched on the attitude of organized to the paper, and it take any action against them on four counts, the charge being that they delivered to an express company at Allentown, Pa., for carriers in interstate commerce, advertisements in reference to lottery tickets.

The advertisements, it is charged, were contained in the Weekly World, which was printed in Allentown and shipped, according to the indictment, to Chicago, Blue Island, Ill., and Cincinnati.

The grand jury failed to indict an employe of the publishers of the paper, nor did it take any action against them on four counts, the charge being that they delivered to an express company at Allentown, Pa., for carriers in interstate commerce, advertisements in reference to lottery tickets.
